> By VIRGIL FALLOON Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County's 1956 assessed valuation on real and personal property showed a gain Friday of some $9.8 million—an increase of 5.5 per cent—over last year's County Assessor Arthur M. Davis released the county's abstract showing a basic valuation of $375,323,250 or an assessed valuation (50 per cent of basic) of $187,661,625.

The 1956 gain of $9,837,880 assessed valuation was comparable with the 1955 increase of $2,553,570. Percentagewise last year's increase was only 14 as compared with this year's 5.5 per cent gain

Increases in Lincoln real estate valuations from new construction and motor vehicle valuations accounted mainly for the total increase, off-setting valuation slumps in other categories, cattle, grains, hogs and personal schedules

By Next Weekend Kansas City officials could not say Thursday when Hudson would arrive in Lincoln. It was estimated that he would be in Lincoln by the end of next week.

Normal procedure then is for the investigator to try to arrange a voluntary agreement between the union and management.

If an agreement cannot be reached, the NLRB would schedule a hearing and determine whether it had jurisdiction in the case. In this particular case, the Board said that it would want to determine whether the two concrete firms are engaged in interstate commerce before beginning a hearing. The interstate commerce finding would determine federal jurisdiction in the case.

The purpose of the hearing would be to determine the advisability of an election by the workers to determine whether the teamster's union actually represents the workers at the two plants.

If the results of the hearing suggest such an election, then the NLRB regional office would give the national office in Washington five days notice. Washington would then rule on the matter and direct that the elections be held, if was elected second vice president the evidence warranted such a

Reliable sources reported that union officials would meet with Smith said Thursday that this their attorneys late Thursday night

Another development Thursday was a reliable report that the to have an appropriate inquiry two firms, both affiliates of the Abel Construction Co., may want gaged in interstate commerce and therefore do not fall under federal law.

Letter Released

Meanwhile, Reimers - Kaufman released a letter which they sent to Mayor Clark Jeary Thursday. The letter, sent by R. E. Eichel berger, manager, stated the local union had notified management "of a claim of representation of its employees for the purpose of collective bargaining."

"The validity of this claim of representation is not borne out by the facts," the letter states, and thus the company has referred the matter to the NLRB.

The letter thanked the Mayor for his "endeavor to restrain any violence or other untoward incidents." Eugene H. Tallman, spokesman for management, had no comment Thursday on any of the developments.

Officials for Olson Construction Co. said Thursday that the strike was not affecting work on the new auditorium.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE The voters of Lincoln and Lancaster County

Tuesday marched to the polls to say "no" decisively to proposals calling for more than $11 million in bonds for a new community hospital and recreation center, for a city-county building, and for a new main library.. The Lincoln Board of Education, meeting Wednesday night, decided to ask the Lancaster County Board of Commissioners for increased funds for school operations aggregating $1.167.367 more than a year ago, an increase of an approximate 23 per cent.

There is no hard and fast rule when the budget for the Lincoln schools must be in the hands of the county board prior to July 1. While that is the date fixed by law, we assume there is nothing inflexible about it. If additional time is needed, we assume all the board of education has to do is to request an extension beyond July 1. We are In Advance Of in no position to charge that Deadlîne Supt. Steve Watkins and the members of the Lincoln Board of Education under pressure or for reasons deemed adequate by the board waited until after the bond proposals had been voted upon to make known educational financial needs for the coming year. Three times in the last five years, the board has come forward with its budget requirements prior to June 26. Twice in the last five years, those budget needs have been made public after June 26. It may have been that the final chores in arithmetic were completed in the 48 hours prior to the 9 o'clock meeting Wednesday night, but if that is the case, let us hope that it does not happen again under similar circumstances. We doubt that the added money needs for schools would have been the one contributing factor to a favorable action on the bonds, but of course you never can tell. Then again, an amazingly lopsided vote could have been somewhat more lopsided.

What we mean to say is that the public-the people who foot the bill-have a right to know what the cost is going to be insofar as it is possible to know the cost. If there is an estimated increase in total assessed values of $5 million -offhand, we would say that is an extremely uncertain development-the total levy for the four funds in the proposed school budget will increase an approximate four milis. If the increase should be greater than $5 million in the assessed value, the increased mill levy would be less than four milis. And if the valuation actually reflects less than a $5 million increase, then it will be necessary to increase the levy more than four mills.

Adequate schools well staffed by a dedicated teaching corps are a No. I necessity. The money needs set forth by the new school budget, however, are vividly projected by the $10 million bond issue voted on in February of 1955 and soundly approved at that time. The bond sinking fund earmarks $741,223.23 for that purpose, an additional $350,000 made necessary because of the first bond retirement needs under the $10 million bond issue. Interest for the bond interest fund was fixed at $243,348.60. Just short of a million dollars, then, goes for bond retirement and to meet interest requirements. We say that not by way of criticism. The school program was presented to the people of Lincoln and in turn approved enthusiastically. We want good schools and if we want good schools it will be necessary to pay for them.

At the same time there are many homeowaers feeling the plack of mounting money needs in the form of increased taxes. Obviously the te has some to give infinitely more thought to old and young homeowners who are discovering the burdens to be well-nigh intelerable.

The GI Bill of Rights which for something denced in its educational program. The secretary has not yet indicated his disposition regarding the request. But there is more precedent for his operating the soil bank program not according to its original design that had there been a disposition to use it for what it is in principle. There are numerous instances where he has relaxed the rules after a fashion of making the program more of a crop insurance scheme than a conservation and surplus-fighting instrument. The corn farmer and the wheat farmer have been given ample time to judge their probable yields before deciding whether to go it as is or enter the program. If that is to be the doctrine then in the name of consistency it should apply generally in circumstances where evidence can be brought of eco-One recalls that Congress spurned an admin-

Ill Ike Not Fully Briefed On Issues

WASHINGTON - More facts are gradually leaking out regarding the crucial days which preceded President Eisenhower's illness. They show the strain under which he worked, the vital decisions he faced in the pressing burden that is the presidency.

Shortly before the illness he had called in House of Representatives leaders to urge reinstatement of one billion dollars in foreign aid. The President did a magnificent. eloquent job, talking for 30 minutes in two 15-minute periods. "I am talking to you as a military man," he said. In detail he explained how certain types of American bombers could make a certain number of missions over Moscow if they flew from European bases, as compared with far fewer trips if bigger hombers flew from the USA. He wanted money for these overseas bases.

The President was sincere and effective. His listeners were impressed. But he became flushed with the exertion. His face, pale before he started talking, was crimson when he finished. It was a brilliant, impassioned plea, but not the kind to be made by a man with a heart condition or high blood pressure.

When he had finished, Speaker Rayburn said:

"Mr. President, this meeting should have been held two weeks ago. The foreign aid bill is now out of committee. However, we will do our best."

Rayburn carried out his promise-only to be reversed. The reverse was a defeat for him, but, more important, it was a defeat for Ike himself, who had laid his reputation and his leadership on the line. The crushing vote against him occurred a few hours before the midnight he was taken ill.

THE WILEY DECISION

One day before his illness the President had been quizzed at a press conference regarding his failure to support GOP Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, a faithful Eisenhower supporter on foreign aid. Though Ike had appealed to Republican leaders for support on foreign aid, and though Wilev has consistently gone down the line for him despite political opposition back in Wisconsin, the President did not support him when anti - Ike, pro - McCarthy forces conspired against him for

When the President was queried about this in a press conference one day before he became ill he became flushed and noticeably unhappy. Wiley, he replied, had not wanted White House aid; he. Eisenhower, had not intervened in other Republican primaries.

A newspaperman asked why be had intervened in Oregon to help ex-Secretary of the Interior Mc-Kay. Ike replied he had not known other Republicans were running. This also was embarrassing. For newsmen knew that four Republicans had already entered the Oregon primary before Eisenhower wrote his letter endorsing McKay.

Suddenly at his press conference the President seemed to realize that his aids had given him poor

All these problems seemed to converge at once. On other occasions lke has had stomach upsets when he faced disagreeable decisions, as when he testified for the 1950 reduced military budget and faced bitter criticism of his own military comrades. Illness that followed forced him to spend over a month in Key West.

Governors Played Second To Politics

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. - National politics took the play away from the 48 state governors here, which is normal in a presidential

The 21 Republicans suffered the additional handicap, so familiar to Democrats during the Roosevelt regime, or being under the blanket of their popular president. The total concentration of the party on an Eisenhower draft all but effaced them as news figures.

By contrast, the presence here of Adlai Stevenson's only avowed challenger, Governor Averell Harriman, combined with the sense that Stevenson is moving toward a first-ballot coup, made each of the 27 Democrats a figure to be watched and consulted.

Reporters are here from all parts of the country. After comparing their notes from three crowded days and nights, they leave here with some general and a few specific impressions.

President Eisenhower is expected by all the pros to run and he is the favorite to win. Yet there is uneasiness a,mong Republicans about his health and about Vice-President Richard M. Nixon's total unpopularity with Democrats and independents.

They shuddered when Governor Luther Hodges of North Carolina, admittedly a Democrat but a stable, forthright man, calmly called Nixon untrustworthy. This is a damning indictment in politics; it is the one which cost Henry Wallace a second term as Franklin

D. Roosevelt's vice-president and, therefore, the presidency.

Democrats accept Mr. Eisenhower as the man to beat and Stevenson as their candidate. They are uneasy on several counts, including:

The President's high showing in polls, which some despise but think influence public opinion. Full employment which, they fear, will keep labor's rank and file away from the polls on election day. The effect of the civil rights issue, not so much in the South as in the

Finally, Democrats wonder if Stevenson can keep up that California pace and excite the electorate. What they really want is a Park Ave. Harry Truman and they fear that, except for fits and starts, they are getting only the Park

Present Stevenson estimates of 500 first ballot votes are, in the general view, too conservative. The Stevenson people were busy here but managed to avoid any pitfalls.

Governor-Harriman did not help himself. This is a gathering of pros and they felt ne hadn't yet qualified. He made mistakes in the conference itself by being heard too much and too often. He gave the general effect of being too eager.

BOB CONSIDINE

Governors See Ike, Adlai Best

NEW YORK - The impression one got at the governors' conference at Atlantic City this week was that the Republicans have absolutely no machinery set up to begin working if their hospitalized champion decides not to run again, and that the Democrats believe their one best bet is Adlai Stevenson, who lost decisively to Eisenhower in 1952.

Any abrupt statement by Eisenhower to the effect that he does not feel physically able to carry on would plunge the GOP into a state of helpless indecision it has not known for years. One gathered at Atlantic City that such an emergency would reopen the gaping party wounds healed by the late Senator Bob Taft when he met with Eisenhower after the 1952 convention and then helped him get elected. The 21-governor appeal to Eisenhower to please run again mirrored the party's complete dependence on the 65-year-old chief executive. Stevenson received more favorable mention in absentia at Atlantie City than Averell Harriman. who was there industriously in person. Senator Kefauver's name was mentioned about as frequently asthat of Millard Fillmore, Jim Finnegan, Stevenson's manager, was a discreet figure about the con-need many more.

Judging from some of the raps at Harriman, and the rude snub of Michigan's liberal governor Williams, who was dumped as chairman of next year's governors' convention, though the job should have been his on a seniority basis, the Democrats appear to be making an effort to outstraddle the Republicans new securely athwart the middle of the road.

"It's the temper of the American people right new, this middle of the road," one of Stevenson's supporters said the other day. Plainly, he was eager to avoid any distemper in this election year. Governor Harriman entertains sharply defined hopes b t has only vague plans for overcoming the lead which the polls insist Stevenson and Kefauver now have over him. "I leave that to your imagination," he said to newsman Scotty Reston the other day when Reston asked him how he ever expected to surmount such obstacles. "You do have a good imagination," the governor continued levelly, Reston did not appear to regard this as quite a compliment. Copyright 1966 by Ball Syndicate last

Living Costs

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The VIP's of our city were disappointed with the results of Tuesday's election. But a hundred thousand small taxpayers breathed a devout "Thank God" when the results were announced. Mayor Jeary suggests that the vote indicates "our people are conservative." We don't know what that means. We only know that we little fellows haven't got the what-it-takes. In all the high-power, full-page advertising of the last few weeks, we didn't see a line nor a word to tell us what we should use for money.

The VIP's are already talking about further campaigning and submitting the defeated proposals again. May we suggest an outline for such a campaign? Go to the sellers of food and clothing and persuade them to take two cents per day off the purchases of every customer. Get the sellers of gasoline, tires, and automobile parts, including licenses, to make a similar deduction. Get the holders of our present mortgages to deduct two cents per day from our principal and interest. Get the city and county governments to take the two cents per day off our present

Get the merchants of steel and concrete to deduct two cents a day from the costs of the building materials involved. Get the laborers, especially the experts and consultants to reduce their wages at the rate of two cents per day. Above all, get two cents per day deducted from the costs of the street paving and the auditorium for which we are already in debt over our ears. We haven't heard a breath about our day-by-day living expenses being reduced even by the tiny sum of two cents per day.

Furthermore, before our Very Important People submit any new proposals to increase our taxes and enhance our civic pride, they should get the sewers of the city working properly. Mayor Jeary hunted in the city's dark inside cupboards to find some money to stop raw sewage from flowing in the streets. But he didn't find it. We have been hunting in our worn wallets to find the necessary two cents per day to finance the $10 million civic pride program, and we didn't find it, either. Mayor Jeary is borrowing $200,000 to fix up the sewers, but we have already borrowed all we can on the security we have to offer. We simply can't raise the wherewithal for these gorgeous new buildings.

Mayor Jeary was right again in saying that Lincoln is still the finest city in the United States. Let us not tax ourselves out of house and home so we have to leave it.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I'm sure a lot of us have been interested in the discussion between the editor of The Star and 'Youthful Observer" on the subject of the cost of good government. One can agree with both these gentlemen that good government costs money, and you can't expect something for nothing.

But we can't reduce the cost of good government to a common denominator of dollars. And if does not come entirely by the grace of God. Nor by wishful thinking. Winston Churchill correctly assessed this cost when he first appeared

The voters of Lincoln and Lancaster County Tuesday marched to the polls to say "no" decisively to proposals calling for more than $10 million in bonds for a new community hospital and recreation center, for a city-county building, and for a new main library.. The Lincoln Board of Education, meeting Wednesday night, decided to ask the Lancaster County Board of Commissioners for increased funds for school operations aggregating $1,167,367 more than a year ago, an increase of an approximate 23 per cent.

There is no hard and fast rule when the budget for the Lincoln schools must be in the hands of the county board prior to July 1. While that is the date fixed by law, we assume there is nothing inflexible about it. If additional time is needed, we assume all the board of education has to do is to request an extension beyond July 1. We are in no position to charge that Supt. Steve Watkins and the members of the Lincoln Board of Education under pressure or for reasons deemed adequate by the board waited until after the bond proposals had been voted upon to make known educational financial needs for the coming year. Three times in the last five years, the board has come forward with its budget requirements prior to June 26. Twice in the last five years, those budget needs have been made public after June 26. It may have been that the final chores in arithmetic were completed in the 48 hours prior to the 9 o'clock meeting Wednesday night, but if that is the case, let us hope that it does not happen again under similar circumstances. We doubt that the added money needs for schools would have been the one contributing factor to a favorable action on the bonds, but of course you never can tell. Then again, an amazingly lopsided vote could have been somewhat more lopsided.

What we mean to say is that the public-the people who foot the bill-have a right to know what the cost is going to be insofar as it is possible to know the cost. If there is an estimated increase in total assessed values of $5 million -offhand, we would say that is an extremely uncertain development—the total levy for the four funds in the proposed school budget will increase an approximate four mills. If the increase should be greater than $5 million in the assessed value, the increased mill levy would be less than four mills. And if the valuation actually reflects less than a $5 million increase, then it will be necessary to increase the levy more than four mills.

Adequate schools well staffed by a dedicated teaching corps are a No. 1 necessity. The money needs set forth by the new school budget, however, are vividly projected by the $10 million bond issue voted on in February of 1955 and soundly approved at that time. The bond sinking fund earmarks $741,223,23 for that purpose, an additional $350,000 made necessary because of the first bond retirement needs under the $10 million bond issue. Interest for the bond interest fund was fixed at $243,348.60. Just short of a million dollars, then, goes for bond retirement and to meet interest requirements. We say that not by way of criticism. The school program was presented to the people of Lincoln and in turn approved enthusiastically. We want good schools and if we want good schools it will be necessary to pay for them.

At the same time there are many homeowners feeling the pinch of mounting money needs in the form of increased taxes. Obviously the time has come to give infinitely more thought to old and young homeowners who are discovering tax burdens to be well-nigh intolerable.

Rayburn carried out his promise-only to be reversed. The reverse was a defeat for him, but, more important, it was a defeat for Ike himself, who had laid his reputation and his leadership on the line. The crushing vote against him occurred a few hours before the midnight he was taken ill.

Ill Ike Not Fully

Briefed On Issues

One day before his illness the President had been quizzed at a press conference regarding his failure to support GOP Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, a faithful Eisenhower supporter on foreign aid. Though Ike had appealed to Republican leaders for support on foreign aid, and though Wiley has consistently gone down the line for him despite political opposition back in Wisconsin, the President did not support him when anti - Ike, pro - McCarthy forces conspired against him for renomination.

When the President was queried about this in a press conference one day before he became ill he became flushed and noticeably unhappy. Wiley, he replied, had not wanted White House aid; he, Eisenhower, had not intervened in other Republican primaries.

A newspaperman asked why he had intervened in Oregon to help ex-Secretary of the Interior Mc-Kay. Ike replied he had not known other Republicans were running. This also was embarrassing. For newsmen knew that four Republicans had already entered the Oregon primary before Eisenhower wrote his letter endorsing McKay.

Suddenly at his press conference the President seemed to realize that his aids had given him poor

All these problems seemed to converge at once. On other occasions Ike has had stomach upsets when he faced disagreeable decisions, as when he testified for the 1950 reduced military budget and faced bitter criticism of his own military comrades. Illness that followed forced him to spend over a month in Key West. (Copyright 1956 by Bell Syndicate Inc.)

The 21 Republicans suffered the additional handicap, so familiar to Democrats during the Roosevelt regime, or being under the blanket of their popular president. The total concentration of the party on an Eisenhower draft all but effaced them as news figures.

By contrast, the presence here of Adlai Stevenson's only avowed challenger, Governor Averell Harriman, combined with the sense that Stevenson is moving toward a first-ballot coup, made each of the 27 Democrats a figure to be watched and consulted.

Reporters are here from all parts of the country. After comparing their notes from three crowded days and nights, they leave here with some general and a few specific impressions.

President Eisenhower is expected by all the pros to run and he is the favorite to win. Yet there is uneasiness among Republicans about his health and about Vice-President Richard M. Nixon's total unpopularity with Democrats and independents.

They shuddered when Governor Luther Hodges of North Carolina, admittedly a Democrat but a stable, forthright man, calmly called Nixon untrustworthy. This is a damning indictment in politics; it is the one which cost Henry Wallace a second term as Franklin

This feeling will no doubt influence the choice of a Democratic vice presidential nominee. Above all, they want a campaigner.

Present Stevenson estimates of 500 first ballot votes are, in the general view, too conservative. The Stevenson people were busy here but managed to avoid any pitfalls.

Governors See Ike, Adlai Best

one got at the governors' conference at Atlantic City this week was that the Republicans have absolutely no machinery set up to begin working if their hospitalized champion decides not to run again, and that the Democrats believe their one best bet is Adlai Stevenson, who lost decisively to Eisenhower in 1952.

Any abrupt statement by Eisenhower to the effect that he does not feel physically able to carry on would plunge the GOP into a state of helpless indecision it has not known for years. One gathered at Atlantic City that such an emergency would reopen the gaping party wounds healed by the late Senator Bob Taft when he met with Eisenhower after the 1952 convention and then helped him get elected. The 21-governor appeal to Eisenhower to please run again mirrored the party's complete dependence on the 65-year-old chief

Stevenson received more favorable mention in absentia at Atlantic City than Averell Harriman, who was there industriously in person. Senator Kefauver's name was mentioned about as frequently as that of Millard Fillmore. Jim Finnegan, Stevenson's manager, was a discreet figure about the con-

> Judging from some of the raps at Harriman, and the rude snub of Michigan's liberal governor "Soapy" Williams, who was dumped as chairman of next year's governors' convention, though the job should have been his on a seniority basis, the Democrats appear to be making an effort to outstraddle the Republicans now securely athwart the middle of the

"It's the temper of the American people right now, this middle of the road," one of Stevenson's supporters said the other day, Plainly, he was eager to avoid any distemper in this election year.

Governor Harriman entertains sharply defined hopes but has only vague plans for overcoming the lead which the polls insist Stevenson and Kefauver now have over him. "I leave that to your imagination." he said to newsman Scotty Reston the other day when Reston asked him how he ever expected to surmount such obstacles. "You do have a good imagination," the governor continued levelly, Reston did not appear to regard this as quite a compliment.

A Bertrand Herald writer was discussing the weighty matter of proper bait. Popular among the local nimrods is the use of minnows, seined from the river and kept in ventilated cans in irrigation ditches or in tanks with running water. Seining crews have leased rights on the Platte and supply vendors at the lake, and the live bait is somewhat expensive thus purchased.

Lincoln, Neb. The VIP's of our city were disappointed with the results of Tuesday's election. But a hundred thousand small taxpayers breathed a devout "Thank God" when the results were announced.

Mayor Jeary suggests that the vote indicates "our people are conservative." We don't know what that means. We only know that we little fellows haven't got the we say, "Oh, well, appropriate anwhat-it-takes. In all the high-pow- other billion, but don't trouble us." er, full-page advertising of the last few weeks, we didn't see a line nor a word to tell us what we should use for money.

Mayor Jeary was right again in saying that Lincoln is still the finest city in the United States. Let us not tax ourselves out of house and home so we have to leave it.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I'm sure a lot of us have been interested in the discussion between the editor of The Star and 'Youthful Observer" on the subject of the cost of good government. One can agree with both these gentlemen that good government costs money, and you can't

But we can't reduce the cost of good government to a common denominator of dollars. And it does not come entirely by the grace of God. Nor by wishful thinking. Winston Churchill correctly assessed this cost when he first appeared

To the editor of The Lincoln Star:

The VIP's are already talking about further campaigning and submitting the defeated proposals again. May we suggest an outline for such a campaign? Go to the sellers of food and clothing and persuade them to take two cents per day off the purchases of every customer. Get the sellers of gasoline, tires, and automobile parts, including licenses, to make a similar deduction. Get the holders of our present mortgages to deduct two cents per day from our principal and interest. Get the city and county governments to take the two cents per day off our present

Get the merchants of steel and concrete to deduct two cents a day from the costs of the building materials involved. Get the laborers, especially the experts and consultants to reduce their wages at the rate of two cents per day. Above all, get two cents per day deducted from the costs of the street paving and the auditorium for which we are already in debt over our ears. We haven't heard a breath about our day-by-day living expenses being reduced even by the tiny sum of two cents per day.

Furthermore, before our Very Important People submit any new proposals to increase our taxes and enhance our civic pride, they should get the sewers of the city working properly. Mayor Jeary hunted in the city's dark inside cupboards to find some money to stop raw sewage from flowing in the streets. But he didn't find it. We have been hunting in our worn wallets to find the necessary two cents per day to finance the $10 million civic pride program, and we didn't find it, either. Mayor Jeary is borrowing $200,000 to fix up the sewers, but we have already borrowed all we can on the security we have to offer. We simply can't raise the wherewithal for these gorgeous new buildings.

NU Agronomists: Wheat Fields Over State Look Spotty

sion agronomists who have been attending outstate meetings say wheat fields appear extremely spotty while out yields will run about half as good as last year.

Some Richardson and Johnson County fields in southeast Net.

County fields in southeast Nebraska may yield as high as 25 bushels of wheat. Some 12 to 14 bushel yields are expected in Fillmore County and 15 bushels in Buffalo, the agronomists said.

However, yields will vary greatly in all areas, according to Don Lehr, secretary of the Nebraska Grain Improvement Assn.

Early Oats Bettér Early varieties of oats seem to look better right now, Assistant Extension Agronomist John Furrer reported, but later varieties may respond to rains if they come. The agronomists have been participating in a series of meetings over the state to discuss small grain variety and fertilizer test

SURPLUS OF LABOR HITS AREA

. . For Harvest A developing surplus of men and machines in the southern Nebraska wheat harvest area was reported Thursday. 'Migration's of combines into this area should be discouraged for the present unless they have pre-arranged commitments for cutting," said the Nebraska State Employment Service. At McCook, the arrival of northward-moving combines is earlier and heavier than last year. Early this week 162 combines had cleared the McCook port of entry, compared with only six machines at the same time last year. Cutting in early fields has just started at Benkelman, Imperial, Hayes Center and Curtis, and surplus combines have been standing by at all four points. Rain in the Hastings area is expected to delay cutting activities until the latter part of the week.

The wheat harvest in the Mc-Cook area has started out on a more optimistic note than was sounded earlier. Yields have run to 25 bushels an acre, with one across the line in Kansas hitting 27. And at Holdrege wheat which has reached the elevators is testing better than many had expected. Some is running 60 pounds or better to a bushel with moisture tests of 11 to 14 per cent.

Some summer fallow wheat in the Holdrege area is making 20 to 30 bushels an acre.

Farther north, in Dodge County rains this week put off the beginning in earnest of the wheat harvest, though a little had trickled in the first of the week.

County agent Russell Hughes said wind and driving rain Monday night, in the opinion of some area elevator operators, did not hurt the ripe wheat or decrease yields.

On the other hand, it would help alfalfa, corn, pastures, soybeaus and possibly oats, the county agent said. Oats were reportedly ripening too fast in some areas because of dry weather.

Nebraskans Back Judge Nomination

WASHINGTON UP -- Senators Hruska and Curtis, and two House Colleagues, Representatives Chase and Harrison, all Nebraska Republicans, appeared before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee Thursday in support of the nomination of Richard Robinson of Omaha to be a federal judge in Nebraska. Sen. Watkins (D-Utah), who presided at the hearing, said no objec-tions had been filed to Robinson's candidacy. Robinson also appeared before the subcommittee, outlining his experience.

Earlier a telegram backing Rob inson reached Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) of the Judiciary Committee, from the Executive Council of the Nebraska State Bar Assn.

Some summer fallow wheat in the Holdrege area is making 20 to 30 bushels an acre.

Farther north, in Dodge County, rains this week put off the beginning in earnest of the wheat harvest, though a little had trickled in the first of the week.

County agent Russell Hughes said wind and driving rain Monday night, in the opinion of some area elevator operators, did not hurt the ripe wheat or decrease yields.

MRS. RICHARD MONAHAN

Two hundred invitations were issued for the wedding of Miss Jane Marie Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Harry Cooper of Palmyra, and Richard C. Monahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Monahan, also of Palmyra, which took place on Thursday evening, June 28, at the Methodist Church ir Falmyra. The double-ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Charles Burt of Douglas, before a background of gladioli and lighted candles in branched holders. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Odus Gee who also accompanied Gary Thompson, the vocal soloist. Ballerina frocks of net over taffeta in shades of blue were worn by the attendants, including Miss Betty Cooper, who was her sister's maid of honor and who appeared in the deeper blue tone; and the bridesmaids, Miss Julia Cooper, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Gladys Monahan, sister of the bridegroom, who were in pastel blue. Each carried a bouquet of pink carna- coln.

Calvin Qualset of Lincoln served Mr Monahan as best man, and seating the guests were Dean Hollowell, Delbert Cooper, Vice Dowdning and Mike Ramold-Nebraska City. John Monahan lighted the candles.

The bride chose a gown of Alencon lace and net over satin for her wedding. A yoke of illusion, framed with natural scallops of lace, created an off-shoulder effect in the long-sleeved fitted bodice, and lace-over-net fashioned the wide, floor-length skirt. A Juliet cap crested with pearls, held to the head her veil of illusion, and she carried an arrangement of roses on a white prayer book.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

The bride attended Nebraska Wesleyan University, and Mr. Monahan attended the University of Nebraska College of Agricul-day, the first an afternoon contest at 2:30 p.m., and the second a night affair at 8 p.m. Can Win Regardless

Lincoln can cinch the first half title by winning five of six makeup games, regardless of what Topeka does in its two makeup games. It Topeka loses one game, the Chiefs will need only four wins, and if the Hawks drop both contests, Lincoln will need only three

So the Friday and Saturday makeup games with the Soos are of top importance to the Chiefs. Lincoln fans who come to Sherman Field Friday and Saturday will be seeing a history-making Lincoln baseball team.

Without question, they'll be viewing the most sensational individual player in the Capital City's diamond memory.

Tootie raised his average from .290 to .319 during the western swing.

The pitching of Don Rowe, Dew ey Williams and Daniels, plus the relieving of Don Williams and Bill Nordberg also pepped the Lincoln cause on the road.

All of this enabled the Chiefs to come from a game and a half back of Topeka when they headed west to the top spot in the league on the final day of the first half. Adding further interest to the two-day series with Sioux City is the fact that the Soos have beefed up player-wise for the second half,

You can't miss the enthusiasm in Branch Rickey these days—even when you chat with him via telephone.

Mr. Rickey, as he's called by the members of the Pittsburgh organization, was in Albuquerque to watch Larry Shepard's Chiefs the other night and I

him shortly

At the moment he was recovershock of learning that Bob Friend handed his fifth loss Branch Rickey when Cincinnati poured across nine runs in the eighth inning to dump Pirates, 10-2, that same But, despite this bad news, I could tell that Branch was a happy man. "I understand we suffered an awful licking tonight," he said. That's too bad. I'll be anxious to find out just what happened." Then he brought up his favorite subject—the prospects for the Pirates.

"If we just finish sixth, I'll be very happy," he said. "Of course, we might finish higher and we might go all the way. I certainly hope for the latter. "But, sixth will make me happy because it will show the' direction that we're going-up!"

Rickey is actually looking forward more to next year. "The boys have done a fine job this year and I'm proud of them," he continued. "But they'll really be dangerous next

"Our pitching has been good this year, but it will be great next year. We will have a much better chance of going to the top next year because of that,"

Turning to the Lincoln Chiefs. Branch expressed profound respect for Dick Stuart's hitting and Dick Shinnick's pitching. But he was tremendously disappointed by Howie Goss' failure to develop as a hitter.

"This fellow Stuart is having remarkable year and you certainly can't pass this by when you think about his future," he

Although Shinnick didn't finish the game Rickey watched, the former general manager of the Pirates, thought he showed fine potential.

"He has a much better curve ball than I thought," he said. "However, he needs work on his control. His control was bad and he walked too many, but they (Albuquerque) didn't hit him." Rickey then elaborated on his concern for Goss. "I'm just sick about Howie," he said. He's not cutting loose up at the plate.

"This boy has more possibilities than anyone in the country, but he's not making the best of his abilities. He should be a great hitter, but he's showing a complete lack of confidence.

"I certainly hope he can overcome this and start really cutting loose," he said. It's too bad there isn't some way for Howie-who has speed and power to burn-to confis-

Lincoln's spectacular fence-busting Chiefs return to Sherman Field Friday night to open a short, but crucial, home stand against the improved Sioux City

Fresh from a highly successful road trip west, Larry Shepard's Chiefs will be home only two days, today and Saturday. But they'll play four games - two of which may have a vital bearing on the first half pennant chase. Friday night's double header will start at 6:30 p.m., with Dom Rosello (3-5) doing the chucking in the first game which is a secondhalf affair. In the nightcap, a makeup game which will count in the first-half standings, Bennie Daniels (6-0) will be on the mound. Two games are also slated Saturday, the first an afternoon contest at 2:30 p.m., and the second a night affair at 8 p.m. Can Win Regardless

Lincoln can cinch the first half title by winning five of six makeup games, regardless of what Topeka does in its two makeup games. It Topeka loses one game, the Chiefs will need only four wins, and if the Hawks drop both contests, Lincoln will need only three So the Friday and Saturday makeup games with the Soos are of top importance to the Chiefs. Lincoln fans who come to Sherman Field Friday and Saturday will be seeing a history-making Lincoln baseball team.

Without question, they'll be viewing the most sensational individual Miley player in the Capital City's dia mond memory.

The pitching of Don Rowe, Dewey Williams and Daniels, plus the relieving of Don Williams and Bill Nordberg also pepped the Lincoln cause on the road. All of this enabled the Chiefs to come from a game and a half back of Topeka when they headed west to the top spot in the league on the final day of the first half. Adding further interest to the two-day series with Sioux City is

You can't miss the enthusiasm in Branch Rickey these days-even when you chat with him via telehanded his Branch Rickey fifth loss when Cincinnati poured across nine runs in the eighth inning to dump Pirates, 10-2, that same evening. But, despite this bad news, I could tell that Branch was a happy man. "I understand we suffered an awful licking tonight," he said. "That's too bad. I'll be anxious to find out just what happened." Then he brought up his favorite subject-the prospects for the Pirates.

"If we just finish sixth, I'll be very happy," he said. "Of course, we might finish higher and we might go all the way. I certainly hope for the latter. But, sixth will make me happy because it will show the direction that we're going-up!"

Rickey is actually looking forward more to next year. "The boys have done a fine job this year and I'm proud of them." he continued. "But they'll really be dangerous next

"Our pitching has been good this year, but it will be great next year. We will have a much better chance of going to the top next year because of that."

Turning to the Lincoln Chiefs, Branch expressed profound respect for Dick Stuart's hitting and Dick Shinnick's pitching. But he was tremendously disappointed by Howie Goss' failure to develop as a hitter.

"This fellow Stuart is having a remarkable year and you certainly can't pass this by when you think about his future," he said

"Why, it's absolutely amazing. He's likely to break all extra base records in baseball. "The boy is definitely an eccentric fellow, but he has great confidence and that's important," he added.

Although Shinnick didn't finish the game Rickey watched, the former general manager of the Pirates, thought he showed fine potential.

'He has a much better curve ball than I thought," he said. "However, he needs work on his control. His control was bad and he walked too many, but they (Albuquerque) didn't hit him." Rickey then elaborated on his concern for Goss.

"I'm just sick about Howie," he said. He's not cutting loose up at the plate. "This boy has more possibilities than anyone in the country. but he's not making the best of his abilities. He should be a great hitter, but he's showing a complete lack of confidence. "I certainly hope he can overcome this and start really cutting loose," he said. It's too bad there isn't some way for Howie-who has speed and power to burn-to confis cate some of Dick Stuart's confi-

The only non-Cincinnati men to start are Long of Pittsburgh at first, Ken Boyer of St. Louis at third and the Cardinals' Stan Musial in right field. Musial, who was not chosen for the starting lineup last year, won the 1955 game at Milwaukee with a 12thinning home run. In contrast to the clean sweep in the National that saw Kluszewski, Red Schoendienst, Eddie Mathews, Ernie Banks, Del Ennis, Duke Snider, Don Mueller and Roy Campanella lose their 1955 jobs, the American ran true to last year's form. Third baseman Jim Finigan of

Olympic Trials Today

LOS ANGELES (4) - The nation's top track and field athletes spent a restless last day Thursday, a waiting their final chance to make the 1956. U.S. Olympic team.

The two-day schedule gets under way Friday night and winds up Saturday afternoon in Memorial Coliseum, a familiar dueling pit for most of the field.

This is the final action of a process which started to separate the best in meets conducted by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., the AAU and the armed

Some 15 athletes qualified in each event for the Olympic try- tling. outs, and by nightfall Saturday, the first three to finish in each event will have made the team for the games in Australia this

Perhaps the highlight will come in the 800-meter run Saturday afternoon when Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh, the favorite, hooks up with Tom Courtney of the Army for the first time this year.

Friday night's features clude a renewal of friendly rivalry in the 100 meters between Bobby Morrow of Abilene, Tex., Christian and Dave Sime of Duke.

The shot put Friday night presents the only three men in the world who have done 60 feet or better, leading off with Parry O'Brien of the Air Force (60-4).

With O'Brien are Ken Bantum of Manhattan College (6012), and From Amarillo, 2-0, 3-1 Bill Nieder, Kansas (60-3%).

> Reached by telephone in Lake a lot of foolish statements without thinking and I plan to apologize personally to all persons concerned." He said there will be no further personnel changes, either in the front office or on the field, until the season is over or unless the club's new owners order them. The Detroit Baseball Co., in> herited by Briggs and his sisters in 1952 from their late father, is up for sale because of a trust fund arrangement. Official bidding will open next week.

The 41-year-old Gordon, a second baseman who spent 11 seasons in the major leagues, most of them with the New York Yankees, was in his first year as the Tigers' first base coach. He managed the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast League for two seasons before joining the Tigers in 1953 as supervisor of West Coast scouts.

Briggs' criticisms started several days ago during the slump that has carried the Tigers through 11 games without a victory. He blamed Manager Bucky Harris and accused players of not husquarterly ratings of the National Boxing Assn. released Thursday listed Archie Moore, Floyd Patterson and Bob Baker in 1-2-3 order as the leading candidates for Rocky Marciano's vacated heavyweight champienship.

NBA Rates Baker Third Contender

The NBA listings differed slightly released earlier this week. Ring put Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson in the third slot and Baker fourth. whereas NBA had them the other way around.

Fred J. Saddy of Milwaukee, chairman of the NBA's rating committee, said his organization believes that Baker, on his record, should be considered a logical contender.

Doubtful Condition "Because of the doubtful condition of Patterson's hand." Saddy said, "the NBA believes that particular care must be taken in Carelessness in aiming ruins about as many fairway wood shots as any other cause. The expert habitually adjusts the face of the club and his feet with proper relation to the ball when he's taking aim. The average golfer should work out a routine that gets himself organized and aimed. Determine your line of flight, then ground your club behind the ball with the club face squarely across the line. The next detail is to be sure that the ball is a bit back of a line off your left heel and that your stance is square. Your hands are about in the same plane as the ball. Remember that you aim your shots with your feet, shoul-

POSTCARD

Some years ago I drove over what is now Highway 50 in Nevada. I drove it on washboard roads in a lively model T Ford with a desert waterbag hanging on the doorhandle, an extra can of gas in the back.

When we drove into Ely there was a terrible clatter, and when we looked back, half of the Ford lay in the road behind us. The washboard effect had jolted most of the body bolts loose and the whole rear end of the body fell off in the road. In a way it was a good thing. For otherwise I would never have learned about Life. ☆ ☆ ☆

Since it was night, we cached the rear end in the brush and drove into town to see about buying some new bolts.

We drove toward the brightest section of town. There didn't seem to be any garages. But three ladies in evening gowns stood on the wooden sidewalk and cried:

"Right in here, boys. The best drinks in Nevada!"

We drove up town and explained our problem to a hotelman. We told him we had driven all over the lively part of town and couldn't find a single garage. He sat down and laughed a good deal. Then he called over another man and told him, and he sat down and began gasping.

"Son," said the man, "that ain't what you would call the car repair part of Ely." He then explained the situation. And both of us being, 15, we grew up suddenly.

I drove into Ely the other day. It is a solid-looking town with a lot of new store fronts and concrete sidewalks. A park and a high school and ice cream stands and a tall brick hotel.

If the old part of Ely still exists I am afraid I wouldn't know where to start looking. $ $ $

That night we drove back and unrolled our blankets next to the unhinged piece of Ford. And in the morning we found a garage, bought our body bolts and put the car together again.

The model T was like that. A child could put it together. And as a child it seemed to me I was: always putting one together.

When we drove out of town we took a quick sneak down the street where we had driven in search of a garage. We drove pretty fast and peeked out of the corner of our eyes. Businesslike and grown up.

It didn't look very wicked. At least not like the wickedness we had pictured. As a matter of fact, it was early in the day and the place was deserted. Not at all like it had been the night before. It was disappointing. At the same time we were a little re-

Gas Testing Set For Tractor Day

A demonstration contest between regular and premium gasoline will be on the program for the fifth annual Tractor Power and Safety Day at the University of Nebraska July 19.

Another feature will be dedication of the new $30,000 tractor test course, which includes a durt track and a concrete track.

This replaces the single dirt course in use since the early 1920s when the Legislature passed a law requiring tests of all tractors sold in the state.

Tractor Day also will feature a parade of new crawler and wheeltype tractors that have been tested on the new course.

June 30 and Oct. 1 for the federal University of Connecticut School of gas tax refund on gas used the Home Economics. first six months of this year.

Internal Revenue Service Form 2240, which may be used for the Nebraska Extension Service for application, can be obtained at five years, including one year in county extension offices, Internal Revenue Service offices, post offices and some banks.

A farmer need only specify the number of gallons of gasoline purchased after Dec. 31, 1955, and used before July 1, 1956, for farming purposes, and the amount of refund claimed at two cents a gallon.

No receipts, invoices or bills should be sent with the application when it is mailed to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Omaha

But they should be kept for verification of claims and for obtaining state gas tax refunds, according to Everett E. Peterson, University of Nebraska extension

Im back, folks, with a brand $32000 new puzzle!

> A FASCINATING NEW KIND OF CROSSWORD PUZZLE! Lots of fun. Enter today-you may win $32,000-paid by JOY, the liquid that makes dishwashing almost nice!

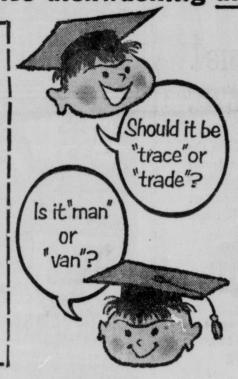

JOY'S NEW "TRICKSTER" PUZZLE Your Name.

(Please PRINT. Use pencil—ink blurs)

Print first letter of your last name in this box NOTE: Be sure to read all rules carefully before sending in this entry blank. Complete puzzle by filling in letters to form the words you think best fit the clues. Clip and mail to "The Trickster", Box 91, Cincinnati 1, Ohio. Enfries must be postmarked no later than midnight August 6, 1956.

Here comes "The Trickster" again to give you another crack at some big money! "The Trickster" is JOY'S exciting new kind of crossword puzzle. It's simple. Great fun. And worth a cool $32,000 to you if you get the right solution.

Most of the puzzle, as you can see, is filled in already. All you do is figure out the missing letters from the clues. But look out! "The Trickster" is clever. Take 26, Down, for instance. The clue is, "It's generally hard for anyone to TRA—E stolen property." Should it be "trade"? "Trace"? Or does some other word fit the clue better?

Only one word is right in each case. The fun is in figuring it out. Got your thinking cap on? Then read the rules carefully and get going. You may be the one to walk off with the $32,000 cash!

CLUES ON TO HELP YOU WIN

Procter & Gamble's new JOY is the liquid that makes dishwashing-no, not fun-but almost nice. Takes the greasy smell and look and feel out of dishwater. Gets the job over quick, leaves your dishes sparkling clean. And it's milder than any other leading liquid—gentle to your hands. JOY saves you money, too. Penny for penny it does more dishes than anything else. Just one capful makes nice-smelling suds billow up. You try it. Get JOY today in the nice new can or the gay bottle.

EASY RULES FOR WINNING

a claim has 1. PRINT clearly in the puzzle the letters you think will form words that best fit the clues. After you have filled in the puzzle, PRINT your name and address clearly on the entry blank. Be sure also to print the first letter of your last name in the box provided. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight August 6, 1956, and must be received no later than August 20, 1956. Mail all entries to: "The Trickster", Box 91, Cincinnati 1,

> 2. You may submit as many solutions to this puzzle as you desire, using official entry blanks. With each entry send a boxtop from any size bottle of JOY (if you have one) or a facsimile copied from any source—OR enclose a separate sheet of paper on which you have copied the number from the bottom of any size JOY can, which now may be seen at your store. In this ad are pictures of the New Milder JOY bottle carton

3. Carefully study the clues before writing your answers. The right solution requires the most appropriate and suitable word in each blank. The judges will determine which word is the most appropriate and suitable to the clue in each case. The judges have been appointed by Procter & Gamble to consider all entries and select the prize winner. Decisions of the judges are final.

right solution to this puzzle. If no correct solution is received, the most nearly correct solution, based on the number of correct words, will be the winner

One prize will be awarded. In the event of ties, a separate "Trickster" puze zle and sentence for completion, "Joy makes dishwashing almost nice because ::: (25 words or less) ", will be mailed to those who have tied. No JOY boxtop or can number will be required with a tie-breaking entry. Entries in the tie-breaking contest will be judged on the basis of the puzzle. In the event of ties, the prize money will be paid to the tying entrant whose sentence for completion is judged most apt, original and sincere.

5. Entries limited to residents of the continental United States (including Alaska) and Hawaii. except employees of Procter & Gamble, its advertising agencies, and their families. Government regulations apply.

6. All entries become unqualifiedly the property of Procter & Gamble for any and all perposes. No entries returned. Except for incidental uncompensated help from family and friends entries must be wholly the work of the person in whose name the entry is submitted, and will be disqualified for outside professional or compensated help. Mechanically reproduced facsimiles or numbers are ineligible. The winner or tying entrants will be notified by mail about 8 weeks

Cattle branders in Nebraska and nearby states evidently are losing the touch in the gentle art of putting their stamps on a critter's

sec. of State Frank Marsh reported Thursday a stepped-up campaign is in the offing to get branding done in a more plain and distinct fashion. The confus monthly meetings to straightenout, Marsh said.

The matter of proper cattle branding war brought out at a three-day national livestock brands conference in Rapid City, S.D., attended by Marsh.

A brand properly applied is a sign of a producer's pride, Marsh said, and contributes to a more attractive animal. Brand inspectors often have to clip hair from an animal's hide to make a poorly applied brand visible.

Marsh said acid brands also were excellent branding brand visible.

Marsh said acid brands also were ceeded, enlarged, relocated, or resting the out. The matter of proper cattle branding war brought out at a three-day national livestock brands conference in Rapid City, S.D., attended by Marsh.

A brand properly applied is a sign of a producer's pride, Marsh said, and contributes to a more attractive animal. Brand inspectors often have to clip hair from an animal's hide to make a poorly applied brand visible.

Marsh said acid brands also were causing trouble because the animals try to rub off the mark and smear the acid into undecipherable marks.

The national conference takes in all states west of the Mississippi, except Nevada, plus Alabama and Louisana east of the river.

The Board of Control reported Thursday it is not planning on installing lightning rods on state institution buildings following a $5,300 fire at the Penitentiary.

Alarold Peterson, administrative assistant to the Board, said the hay barn fire Wednesday was the first of its kind at a state institution.

The building was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

Peterson said rods have not been erected on the state buildings because of the cost and absence of prior lightning losses.

Charles Fowler, superintendent of buildings and grounds at the University "doesn't go all out on lightning rods" although some buildings have them, especially the older buildings.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails and utilities firmed at the close to boister the bond market back to an even keel after earlier losses Thursday.

Rails and industrials were steady, utilities advanced a shade and investment quality issues eased.

U.S. Treasury obligations posted their second consecutive day's advance, after 10 days on the downside Thursday's gains were roughly half of Wednesday's with firmness evident in long-range bonds.

Corporate volume dwindled to $2,446,500 par value on the Big Board from $3,020,000 Wednesday.

Late Selling Drops Grains: Oats Rise

CHICAGO (A) - Grains fell back on the board of trade Thursday. mostly closing at the session's lows on an expansion in selling in the last few minutes. Wheat and soybeans were hardest hit by this last minute selling. est hit by this last implies 224 until then, soybeans had shown 224 225 225 flashes of strength.

A notable exception to the late selling was oats, which scored highs for the day at the same time lows.

Wheat closed 1½-2½ lower, corn ½-1¼, lower, oats ½ lower to ½ higher and rye 1½-1¼ lower. Soybeans closed 1¼-3¼ lower and lard mechanged to 26 cents a hundred pounds liveber. inchanged to 20 cents a hundred pounds ingher

While hedging pressure did not appear to be heavy in wheat, quite a bit of selling came from local traders.

They apparently were made a bitle nervous by reports of large yields of red wheat in the Midwest.

N.Y. Stage Manager Murdered

NEW YORK (A) - A 40-year-old stage manager was found savagely stabbed to death Thursday night in a sublet East Side apartment. The victim was identified as Arthur Byrne, until recently stage manager for the off-Broadway Two-Car Accident troupe of "Mrs. Warren's Profes-

He had been stabbed six times in the chest, twice in the back and three times about the head. Asst. Medical Examiner Sidney Weinberg said there also was evidence of a beating.

The body, clad in underwear and trussed with rags and neckties, was sprawled on a bed in a basement flat on East 39th Street. A skirt covered the head and a bathrobe hid the rest of the body. It was found by Mary Metcalf, a music student, who shared the apartment with Elizabeth Chamberlain, a TV wardrobe mistress Miss Metcalf said they had just sublet the apartment to Bvrne planning themselves to leave on moved his belongings in earlier in the day, she said. The roommates described Byrne

Stock Market Is Irregularly Higher

NEW YORK (A)-The stock market weaved uncertainly Thursday as the near-term future of the steel industry hung in the balance. But, on average, prices of leading stocks edged ahead, marking the week's third advance.

It was a narrow squeak, however, and the best that could be said was that the trend was irregularly higher.

gan in Municipal Court Thursday with the complainant saying he still isn't a well man.

The split lip and black eye received by Miklos (Mickey) Karoly Hargitay, billed until shortly before the June 6 combat as "Mr. Universe," apparently had healed. But he told the jury, "Since then I have had nightmares."

The defense attorney said he would show that Charles (Chuck) Krauser, 33, who knocked Mickey down in Mae's dressing room acted in self-defense.

Hargitay, a Hungarian-born former interior decorator, has also filed a $100,000 damage suit against Miss West and Krauser. He said "the brutal attack" has "irreparably damaged" his career. Hargitay's account went like this:

"There shouldn't be no reason to demote anybody because I know my part I've been playing. When Miss West said Jayne Mansfield was bad publicity, Mr. Chuck it is a complete the complete of the complete

The State Department of Aeronautics was engaged Thursday in a battle against time to take advantage of federal funds which lapse unless used.

Acting State Aeronautics Director Steve Gilbert said the department was "Sweating out" offers of federal grants for the projects High Mass for Miss Margaret from the Civil Aeronautics Ad-Mulcahy, 74, who died in Beatrice ministration.

Once the offers come, then local city councils must formally accept them and the CAA offices at Kansas City must be notified of day at the Harman mortuary. Burial will be in St. Joseph's the acceptance, Gilbert said.

All of this must be done by Saturday or the $106,000 in federal grants involved will be "turned back." The McCook job involves runway surfacing, a $100,000 job for which the city will put up $25,000, the state $25,000 and the federal government $50,000. The $32,000 Hastings project involves the acquisition of "clear z on e s" for airport runways, with the federal government and the city sharing the cost 50-50. Omaha's $80,000 job also involves "clear zone" acquisition, for the north end of the northwest-southeast runway, paid for on the same 50-50 basis. About $253,000 in federal money was made available to Nebraska for the fiscal year ending Saturday under what is known as a "Stage One" allocation Another $500,000 in federal money also was made available to Nebrasks for the year under another appropriato be spent for another year. Unexpended federal grants are returned to the government and reappropriated among the states. In the past, Nebraska's share of this reappropriated money generally has exceeded any lapsed amount from this state, Gilbert said.
